

DISC Based Leadership

"Maximizing team potential with personalized leadership solutions."

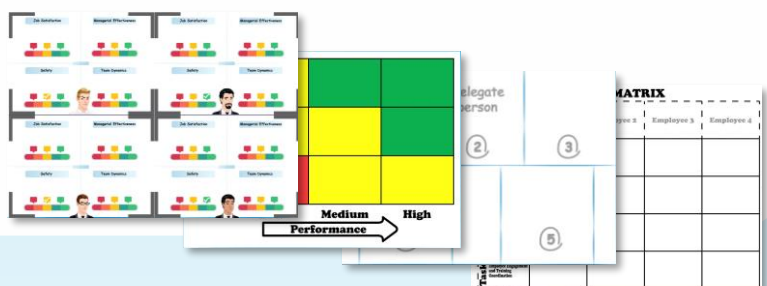

About the Simulation

The DISC-Based Leadership simulation is designed to enhance leadership and HR-related skills for non-HR professionals. Participants select the right individuals for specific roles, communicate effectively based on personality traits, apply situational leadership techniques, motivate employees, assign tasks appropriately, and delegate effectively.

- Duration: 6 hours.
- Participants: 12-20 participants, grouped into 4 teams.

Who Benefits from DISC-Based Leadership?

- First-Time Leaders and Managers: Individuals transitioning into leadership roles who need to develop foundational leadership and HR skills.
- Non-HR Professionals: Leaders from technical or operational backgrounds looking to improve their understanding of HR practices and interpersonal management.

DISC Based Leadership

Competencies Tackled.

- Leadership Skills: Building and adapting leadership styles to different team members and situations.
- Communication Skills: Adapting communication techniques to suit individual personality styles.
- Talent Management: Aligning individual strengths with organizational needs for optimal team performance.
- Motivational Techniques: Applying strategies to inspire and sustain employee engagement.

Through “DISC Based Leadership” participants will:

- Interpret the different DISC personality.
- Select the right team members for specific roles.
- Adapt communication styles to suit the DISC profiles of employees.
- Apply appropriate leadership styles based on the developmental level of each employee.
- Implement strategies to inspire and energize team members.
- Delegate tasks based on employees’ skills, preferences, and profiles to optimize efficiency and accountability.

